

Gene Therapy – Inherited Retinal Diseases

Take Home Points

- Gene Therapy using AAV vector is relatively safe
- First ocular therapy (RPE65) was approved by FDA in 2017. In the near future, more gene therapies will be commercially available
- Gene therapy helps patients within therapeutic window to improve or maintain vision
- Accurate early diagnosis and genetic testing is become more important and routine in future practice